

PARENT TECH QUICK-START KIT

7-Day Parent Tech Setup Plan

Use this one-week workflow before buying devices or changing settings for an aging parent. The goal is less friction, clearer expectations, and a calmer handoff.

This is general technology education, not medical, legal, financial, cybersecurity, or emergency advice. No device or checklist can guarantee safety or stop every scam.

Day-by-day plan

Day 1: Pick the main problem

- ☐ Choose one priority: calls, scam texts, video calls, or living-alone check-ins.
- ☐ Write the parent's daily task in plain words.

Day 2: List trusted contacts

- ☐ Add family, doctors, pharmacy, bank, neighbors, and care contacts.
- ☐ Confirm which calls must always get through.

Day 3: Compare fewer options

- ☐ Compare setup steps, monthly cost, battery, account recovery, and return policy.
- ☐ Remove products that create weekly support work.

Day 4: Set up the first screen

- ☐ Increase text size, sound, and contrast.
- ☐ Put only daily apps or contacts on the first screen.

Day 5: Practice the real routine

- ☐ Practice answer, call back, video call, charge, and suspicious text handling.
- ☐ Repeat with calm language, not a lecture.

Day 6: Explain limits

- ☐ Write what the device can help with and what it cannot promise.
- ☐ Decide who reviews missed alerts or blocked calls.

Day 7: Review and simplify

- ☐ Remove confusing prompts, unused apps, and extra notifications.
- ☐ Schedule a monthly 10-minute review.

Keep visible

- ☐ Print this sheet and keep it near the charger or family notes.
- ☐ Update it when costs, contacts, or routines change.

Product page: <https://parenttechchecklist.com/products/parent-tech-quick-start-kit>
Parent Tech Checklist. No vendor or affiliate links are included in this worksheet.